

On Wednesday September 21st STC held its first CAS fair. Over 10 NGO organisations such as Habitat for Humanity, Ark Eden and UNICEF were invited to STC to promote their work both on a local and international level.

The CAS fair gave Year 12 and 13 IB students the opportunity to speak to the organisations about their work as well as to provide them with a platform to forge a connection with the community and hopefully initiate some service volunteer work with them.

Experiential learning is at the very heart of CAS (Creativity, Action & Service) which is a compulsory component of the IB Diploma programme. Service activities allow students to bring real learning benefits to self and others, it helps them to understand their own capacity to make a difference and develop a sense of accountability and responsibility.

Many charities in HK are centered around fund raising though this fundamental in supporting the cause and running the charity it does not allow students to engage in an active way and understand fully the workings of the organization. We like to encourage students to think about what else they can do to help the charity and more importantly.
